- This was a larger presentation leading to a little less participation from the providers in the audience. However, it was useful. I believe moving forward with the cross sector case conferencing is the right direction, unlike another parallel movement to merge databases in order to get folks to work together. We can coordinate without changing HMIS.
- This was a great session framing the issue and show various attempts of this program to overcome those challenges. At the same time sharing an understanding that their efforts were only the beginnings of solutions.

- I felt like some of the answers they gave were vague and unhelpful, but this is to be expected because it's a pilot, and not all aspects have been formalized/built.
- - Did not happen -
