- Interesting topic and videos
- I appreciated the personal experience the presenter(s) brought to the session, and the multimedia involved (even though getting the components to work correctly was clearly a heavier lift than anticipated...props to Theo for handling it like a pro!)

(optional) Please share any recommendations for how to improve our ability to discuss and collaborate on this topic

- Issues with audio, videos, and presentation went over time without change to ask questions
- Unsure whether this question is supposed to be the flip side of the prior question, asking for improvement opportunities. If so: one of the presenters showed a video that was supposed to be showing their personal exploitation, but then failed to point out which person in the video they were. It was not obvious.
